

Hey Mac Software Releases Christmas Narrator for iPhone

Multimedia story-telling app applies Narrator technology to three Christmas classics

Ontario, Canada – December 19, 2009 – Hey Mac Software announced today that version 1.0 of its Christmas Narrator for iPhone software is now available. Based on the advanced technology of the Narrator multimedia story-telling app – including support for instant word look up in the e-reader, synched audio, and animated illustrations – Christmas Narrator brings three Christmas classics to life on the iPhone and iPod Touch. These tales are:

- A Christmas Carol: Charles Dickens' much-loved "ghost story of Christmas in prose" dramatically unfolds in this masterful reading of the tale. And because this Christmas classic is presented via Narrator technology, those of us not entirely well-versed in Victorian English can instantly look up unfamiliar words by going into Dictionary mode and then tapping on those words.
- 'Twas the Night Before Christmas: Clement C. Moore's poem of his Christmas Eve encounter with St. Nick has delighted young and old for close to a century. Christmas Narrator brings the story more fully to life for youngsters through animations of the book's original illustrations.
- Story of the Nativity: The birth of the Christ-child as told in the Gospel of Luke (read from William Tyndale's 16th century translation) is the beginning of what many feel to be the most powerful story of all times. This account of Jesus birth is enhanced by animations of works of Renaissance art on the theme of the nativity.

Narrator and Christmas Narrator

Narrator is a multimedia app and publishing platform for the iPhone and iPod Touch that delivers educational and entertainment content via: high-quality audio combined with e-text for enhanced comprehension; built-in dictionaries (English and translation) for those learning, or reading content in, their second language; integrated Google Map and GPS technology for location-based content (museums, art galleries, etc.); and animated illustrations for picture books. Narrator is available at the iPhone App Store for $2.99, Christmas Narrator for $.99.